What Is Working Credit?

Working Credit NFP is a nonprofit organization that provides expert-led workshops on credit building and one-on-one credit building counseling for an entire year. These value-added services are available at no cost to you, your spouse/partner, children (18yo+)!

What is the Service?

- The signature credit building workshop is offered 3 times a week to maximize convenience. The workshop is offered (via Zoom) in both English and Spanish. It covers the secrets to credit building, the scams you need to watch out for, how to build a credit safety net for emergencies, and how a strong score can help you lower expenses.
- You will have unlimited access to the same credit building expert for an entire year to map out and take steps toward your specific financial goals. The process is guided by a detailed Credit Action Plan that you and your counselor create in your first one-on-one session.

Why Credit Building?

Credit is key to our day-to-day financial lives. Financing a cell phone, renting or purchasing a home, and access to available and affordable credit to handle an unexpected expense all depends on a strong credit score.

Unlike high-priced credit repair agencies that don't produce lasting results, Working Credit offers a free alternative that will not only help you build a strong score - it provides the knowledge and tools to sustain it!
